St Jude's Star Knowledge is Power

From the very first student newsletter from the School of St. Jude's in Tanzania

You blink 15,000 times a day!

The muscle that lets your eye blink is the fastest muscle in your body. It allows you to blink five times a second. On average, you blink 15,000 times a day. That's about 10 times per minute, or more than five million times a year. Women blink more than men.

Cooking tips to fix those spoils!

If a soup or stew is too salty, add raw cut potatoes. Discard them after they have cooked – they will have absorbed the salt. If a soup or stew is too sweet, add salt. If a main dish or vegetable is too sweet, add a teaspoon of cider vinegar.

To get rid of mice or rats!

Sprinkle black pepper in places where you find mice or rats. They will run away. It is good to do this because rats multiply so quickly that in 18 months, two rats could have over a million descendants.

Impossible!

It is physically impossible for you to lick your elbow.

Unique!

Like fingerprints, everyone's tongue print is different.

Grandfather's big ears!

Our eyes are always the same size from birth, but our nose and ears never stop growing.

Don't test this at home!

It is possible to lead a cow upstairs ... but impossible to lead it down.

Who tested this?

A snail can sleep for three years.

... and this?!

A crocodile can't stick its tongue out

Pigs don't know about stars ...

It is impossible for a pig to look up at the sky.

Luckily ...

Elephants can't jump.

Did you do this?!

Almost everyone who reads this will try to lick his or her elbow!
